Swiss Banks Reported Haven For Tax Evaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use of secret foreign bank accounts probably constitutes the biggest single loophole in the entire field of tax evasion, according to a veteran investigator of hidden-funds operations involving overseas banks.

"Switzerland is a tax haven, no doubt about that," Robert Morgenthau told the House Banking Committee Tuesday. "It isn't only for United States citizens—South Americans, Arab leaders, all are using Swiss banks for tax havens." The former New York federal attorney who was recently fired by President Nixon criticized the administration for what he called its withdrawal of support for a regulatory bill to curb use of secret foreign bank accounts by criminals and tax cheats.

Treasury officials have said the administration favors the bill's goals but fears it is so broad that it would do more harm than good.

The measure would require record-keeping and reports by persons maintaining accounts in foreign banks protected by secrecy laws, and by couriers who transport cash or securities to such foreign banks.

Detailed Records Kept
The Treasury's doubts apparently center on requirements for U.S. banks to keep detailed records, including microfilms, of checks cleared.
But Morgenthau said record-keeping provisions of the bill are essential for enforcement. He voiced concern over what he

Parochial Hit By Methodists

DETROIT (AP)—Public aid to parochial schools came under strong fire from clergy and laymen at a "Remonstrance against Parochialism" at Detroit's Central Methodist Church Tuesday.

"Parochialism is only a ruse to free public funds for privileged education," Bishop Dwight E. Loder of the Michigan Area United Methodist Church told the nearly 200 participants in the conference.

"It amounts to taxation without representation to those who do not want their funds used for religious education."

"If prayer and bible reading are banned in public schools, then they must be banned from any private schools which depend upon public funds," said Dr. Arthur Farrell, executive secretary of the Michigan Baptist Convention.

"For the government to force people of other religious beliefs to support parochialism is a violent attack upon religious freedom," Farrell added.

One Roman Catholic priest joined the attack. Father Joseph Gierut of St. Francis D'Assisi Church in Detroit, said that if public funds are given to private schools, everyone would have the right to attend them and they would be left open to public control.
The Roman Catholic Church hierarchy in the state has been strongly in support of parochialism.

Grant Okayed

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids, reports a state grant of $332,615 has been authorized for the village of Lake Odessa for modifying its existing sewage treatment plant and adding an aerated lagoon followed by a spray irrigation system. The money will come from the $285 million water pollution control fund established by the Legislature. Total estimated cost of the Lake Odessa project will be $620,300, VanderLaan reported.

views as success of some large domestic banks in undercutting support for the legislation.

In response to Morgenthau's testimony, a Treasury Department spokesman summoned reporters and conceded that bankers had met with Treasury officials, but protested implications the bankers had forced the department to change its position.

Expansion Noted
Morgenthau said proliferation of branches and subsidiaries of U.S. banks overseas is linked with the rapid expansion of the market in Eurodollars—dollars held abroad and traded there.

"A portion of this growth is undoubtedly the result of illegal uses of foreign bank accounts," he said.

"But in many instances," he added, "these Eurodollar deposits are the result of tax loopholes that might well be plugged through legislation if the Congress had the information necessary to formulate and back up tax proposals."

Escape U. S. Taxes
Frank A. Bartimo, assistant general counsel of the Defense Department, told the committee legislation that would help enforcement agencies get information about bank accounts could result in a tapping of money, otherwise subject to U.S. tax laws, which now escapes to numbered foreign bank accounts.

Campus Dissent Seen Dissolving

WASHINGTON (AP) — From Stanford in the West to MIT in the East, defense research on campuses is undergoing an acid test of dissent. But Pentagon officials say programs have not been seriously affected.

Defense Department leaders have watched with concern as military-related research in U.S. colleges and universities have come under increasing attack during the Vietnam war.

Now, they indicate the opposition has reached a peak and will subside—coincidentally or not, with the tapering off of the southeast Asia conflict.

Troop Pullout Helps
"The pullout of American troops from Vietnam probably defused the situation," one Pentagon research specialist says. "The student groups are leaving the war issue and moving to the pollution problem."

Several American institutions were the focus of student—and in instances, faculty—opposition last year, prompting some Congress members to urge Pentagon cancellation of support of the schools' research programs.

Pentagon officials have chosen, instead, a policy of letting each institution work out its problems alone and on its own.

Opposition Varies
The student opposition has ranged from reasoned discussion to wild demonstrations, and some college laboratories doing Pentagon work were closed for a few days in 1969. But an official described this as "less significant than an epidemic of Asian flu."

The Pentagon also has been able to take a somewhat aloof attitude toward opposition because it has a huge market

Vet Survives Power Outage, Heart Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — A Michigan television repairman, who underwent heart surgery a week ago during an operation that almost failed when electric power failure stopped the heart-lung machine, was "doing fine" today, doctors said.

James Bellas of Sister Lakes, Mich., is a patient at Hines Veterans Hospital, where surgeons repaired a malfunction of the ventricle, a lower chamber of the heart, weakened by aneurysm, which stretched and filled the chamber with blood.

The 25 doctors who eventually aided in the six-hour operation were forced to resort to manual pumping of the heart-lung machine at the critical moment of sewing. The machine sustains life during heart surgery.

Dr. William Neville, chief of cardiac surgery, said the worn-out portion of the muscle controlling the ventricle was cut away.

"We had the heart open and were ready to close the incision when the power failed," Neville said.

Bellas would have died within minutes from lack of blood to his brain and other vital organs except for efforts by the doctors.

"It was a kind of a nightmare that every surgeon dreads and hopes will never happen," said Dr. Roque Piffare, who was performing the operation.

The doctors immediately formed teams under the direction of Clarence Colby, a heart-lung machine technician, to operate the three manual pumps.

"For the critical 15 minutes that the electricity was off, five men pushed themselves to their limits in order to maintain the blood flow," Colby said.

The cause of the electric power failure has not been determined.

Bellas, a veteran of World War II, married his wife, Betty, in England. The couple has three children, ages 11 to 17.

Apollo Capsule Heads For State

LANSING (AP) — The Apollo 11 space capsule, the craft that carried the first earth men who walked on the moon, will be displayed in Michigan's capital this fall.

Gov. William Milliken announced the planned showing, which also will include display of the first rock brought back to earth from the lunar surface.

The display is slated for Aug. 28-Sept. 1 in Lansing.

The lunar rock sample and the Apollo 11 capsule, slated for a tour of the 50 states, will be carried in a special mobile van 40 feet long and 14 feet wide.

House Heads For Vote On School Bill

LANSING (AP) — A weeks-old economy mood may be coming to a close as the Michigan House moves toward a final vote on a $974-million school aid bill.

The House meets today at 2:30 p.m., the Senate at 2 p.m.

By a narrow, 55-45 vote Tuesday — one short of passage — the lower chamber nearly reversed its recent concern for election-year spending increases that mean more taxes. The extra vote would have given Democrats approval for a plan to add $3.4 million to the bill as a hedge in later bargaining with the Senate over the final price of the bill.

Proposed by Democratic Reps. Bill Huffman of Madison Heights, George F. Montgomery of Detroit, and William Copeland, Wyandotte, the defeated amendment would have pumped the cost of a special tax write-off for districts with high millage rates back to $16.4 million.

Other preliminary action on the bill included rejection of a plan proposed by Republican Roy Spencer of Attica to set a ceiling on salary contracts that

Bill Signed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken Tuesday signed into law a bill appropriating an additional $850,000 in aid to environmentally disadvantaged school districts. The aid goes to school districts throughout the state for special programs for such students. Also signed by the governor was a measure providing for several amendments to the election code, including establishment of absentee voter counting boards.

Plan May Backfire If Oil Output Stops

BEIRUT (AP) — The Arabs should kick out American oil companies unless the United States stops helping Israel, said five Arab countries at their mini-summit conference in Cairo, but nobody knows better than the Arabs that they would be hurt most.

Rap Israel Aid

The communique issued by Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Iraq and Sudan after their meeting over the weekend declared: "The Arab nation refuses to see its resources and wealth being exploited and converted into assistance and weapons for Israel. The continuation of such exploitation should be considered an act of imperialism which must be liquidated by the Arab countries."

After the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, the Arabs decided to cut off oil shipments to Britain, the United States and West Germany. The Arabs soon realized they were suffering more than anyone else, and oil started flowing again.

Billion Dollar Intake

The three Arab states that have most of the oil did not attend the Cairo conference. Saudi Arabia and Kuwait already have made it clear that they do not intend to cut their own economic throats, and even the new revolutionary government of Libya is not likely to choke off income worth a billion a year.

Of the countries at the confrontation summit so called because the five nations are those with troops actively engaged against Israel—only Iraq is a big oil exporter. American interests comprise about 23 percent of the Western-owned Iraq Petroleum Co., which produces Iraq's oil.

Income Jeopardized
It would be impossible to hit the U.S. holdings without affecting the whole operation. This in turn would jeopardize an annual

Russians Agree To Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic observers say the Soviet Union, responding to Western initiatives, has agreed to hold four-power talks on the future of Berlin.

However, the observers said Tuesday, although the Western powers suggested discussions on specific matters to make life easier for all of Berlin's residents, the Soviet answer indicates Moscow wants to talk only about West Berlin.

GOP Gripping Pollution Reins

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a blitz of rhetoric, action and publicity, the Nixon administration has taken a giant step forward in the undeclared war to deprive Democrats of a favorite and potent issue—the deteriorating American environment.

The latest move in the President's environmental drive is a 37-point message sent to Congress Tuesday, including 23 proposals for new legislation.

Nixon's proposals have drawn immediate counterfire from congressional Democrats, many of whom were identified with the issue long before it acquired political glamor.

The possible political impact of the issue which for years was the concern mainly of a group of scientists, was forecast in a 1966 staff study of the Senate Republican Policy Committee: "Clean air means votes. Just how many votes are involved and where they may be found is only now becoming fully appreciated."

Placing an exclamation point on that estimate, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said recently the political party with the best record on environment "is going to be the party that wins the most elections."

Partisan issue or not, the environment in the last several months has spawned new agencies, offices and programs to a degree not matched since President Lyndon B. Johnson declared war on poverty.

income to Iraq of $500 million. Syria is a minor oil exporter and does most of it all on its own with some help from Russian experts.

Egypt's growing oil production depends heavily on the know how and investment of independent American oil companies in partnership with government concerns. Thanks to fields the Americans are developing, Egypt hopes to double its present production by 1975, probably becoming an important exporter in the process.

VC Delta Push Stopped Cold

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese commanders say allied forces have disrupted a major new push by two North Vietnamese battalions into the Mekong Delta. They reported 79 more enemy troops killed in the Plain of Reeds, bringing the total to 207 in a series of battles since last Friday.

No government casualties were reported in the most recent clash 10 miles west of the provincial capital of Moc Hoa. Spokesmen said most of the enemy dead probably were slain by artillery, fighter-bombers and helicopters supporting government rangers trying to block the retreat into Cambodia of the North Vietnamese 88th Regiment's 8th and 9th battalions.

Seventeen South Vietnamese were killed and 24 wounded in the earlier fighting along the enemy battalions were intercepted last week in the desolate plain some 60 miles west of Saigon.

The officers said captured documents and prisoners revealed the 88th Regiment had planned to make its way during the Tet cease-fire period last week to the vicinity of My Tho, the chief city in the northern delta 40 miles south of Saigon, to be ready for an offensive in the area in mid-March.

Quiz Four Arabs After Germany Airport Attack

MUNICH (AP) — Munich police today questioned four Arabs arrested after a grenade attack in the Munich airport on passengers of an Israeli airliner.

Three of the Arabs were wounded during the attack Tuesday and the fourth was arrested by police who cordoned off the airport to search for accomplices.

Munich Police Chief Hermann Schreiber said officials were trying to determine the motive for the attack. He said police "cannot rule out" the possibility that the target was Assaf Dayan, 24-year-old actor son of Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and a passenger on the plane. But the police added that as yet there was no firm evidence to support that theory.

Young Dayan was not hurt. He was at a Munich hotel today under police guard, but police would not say which hotel.

Gangsters 'Trap' Airport Unions, Mitchell Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — The air freight industry at one of the nation's largest airports is "trapped" by gangsters, U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says.

He did not say which airport, but his remarks Tuesday reiterated charges made a year ago by the New York State Investigation Commission that organized crime had infiltrated the freight trade at Kennedy Airport.

Mitchell said thievery was rampant at the airport he was thinking of. Losses from thefts at Kennedy Airport have run into the millions in recent years. Only a month ago five men were arrested in the theft of $200,000 in jewelry, coins and watches.

Wellman Resigns From Escanaba School Board

By BOB GREGG

Resignations, curriculum changes and vandalism at the area high school were among the main topics discussed during Tuesday night's meeting of the Escanaba Area School Board held at the Wells School.

In a letter to Superintendent Luther Barrett, Daniel Wellman, board member from Ford River, said he was resigning from the board because of personal reasons. Wellman's term on the elected body expires in June.

Wellman was elected in June, 1968 to serve a two-year term on the board. He is currently employed at Harnischfeger Corporation in Escanaba.

Board member Ronald Lankford was appointed chairman of a committee to study potential candidates and come up with a person to serve out Wellman's term on the board.

Among the candidates being studied is John Ziemba, president of the John Lemmer PTA. Ziemba, who works as a chemistry professor at Bay de Noc College, volunteered at last night's meeting to fill Wellman's vacancy.

A letter was read to the board from member Charles Tooman stating his resignation from his position as secretary.

Improve Habitat To Aid Wildlife, Residents Urged

February is an ideal time for owners of rural acreage to plan habitat improvement projects to aid wildlife, Department of Natural Resources officials said today.

To spur interest in wildlife food and cover plantings, the state is offering suitable packets of shrubs and tree seedlings at cost. If you've got some land and the desire to help wildlife in your area, get more details by writing to "Wildlife Packet, DNR, Lansing."

Fishing in the Delta-Marquette-Alger county area has been on the slow side with little activity and "not good" success, officers reported. Perch on Big Shag and Anderson Lakes near Gwinn, Bay de Noc above Gladstone, and AuTrain and 16-Mile Lakes in the Chatham area have been most cooperative; also a few rainbow being taken from Johnson Lake near Gwinn.

Elsewhere, it is reported that coho salmon continue to be taken off the mouth of Thompson Creek and good success for whitefish is being had in Emerson Bay at the mouth of the Tahquamenon River.

Recently released statistics reveal that at least 8,890 deer were killed by cars throughout the state in 1969. Well over half of these fatalities were in southern Michigan. Major Upper Peninsula losses were in Menominee, Dickinson and Iron counties.

This also is the time of the year when dogs begin chasing deer, officers said. Observances of such activity should be promptly reported to conservation officers.

February also is normally the best part of the winter for viewing the spectacular ice formations at the Upper Falls on the Tahquamenon River in the Tahquamenon Falls State Park. It is strongly recommended to take a camera along.

of the board. Tooman said he was resigning because of pressing personal commitments. Tooman will remain on the board, but will not serve as secretary.

"A secretary is a necessity, because of the many papers that have to be signed every month," Barrett said. "The position should be filled as soon as possible." The board agreed to fill the office in the near future.

Revise Curriculum

The board approved a revision of the high school home economics curriculum in order to meet vocational education reimbursement requirements. The revision will drop the second year of general home economics from the program and substitute three semester-length vocational courses.

"Vocational education requirements in the home economics field are being changed," Barrett said. "Our general courses will no longer qualify after this year for reimbursement."

Barrett explained to the board that offerings in the home economics field have to be more vocational oriented. According to the superintendent, teachers have been working since last spring revising the curriculum.

Council Recommends

The board-approved revision was recommended by the Educational Planning Council and OK'd by high school principal Robert Micensky.

Barrett said the basic proposal is to offer just one year of general home economics rather than three as at present since general classes will no longer be reimbursable.

Students currently in the 10th and 11th grades will be surveyed to determine which courses will be offered, Barrett reported. Nursing, family health, child development, family living, consumer education, home management, clothing services and waitress training are among the courses being considered.

Special diplomas were granted to Lee Denesha, Diane King, Paul Krussel and John Stacy who recently completed high school graduation requirements. Barrett commended this small group of students for their persistence in obtaining diplomas.

Vandalism

"Vandalism at the high school, particularly in the boys' rest rooms, is a continuing problem," Barrett told the board. Barrett said the damage has been increasing.

He said both students and staff have expressed concern over the matter, but have been thwarted in their attempts to curtail the destruction. He mentioned that students made posters asking for pride in Escanaba High. "But the vandals even defaced the posters," said Barrett.

Barrett said the student council has raised $35 in a campaign to help repair the damage done by vandals at the high school.

Board member Ralph Kaziatek suggested to Barrett that students caught maliciously destroying school property be turned over to the police and punished.

Barrett and Micensky disagreed with Kaziatek, saying they preferred to take a positive approach in the matter. "Some of the vandals have been caught and disciplined," Micensky told the board. The principal added that the guilty students were suspended from school for their actions.

Citizens' Group

In other business, the board decided to form a citizens' committee to advise them on future building and millage problems. The formation of the group was suggested by Supt. Barrett and Mrs. Cynthia Winters, school information director.

Mrs. Winters described how she thought the committee could be formed. "We should have a certain number of people from each area in the district to serve," she said. "Maybe 40 to 50 persons."

Barrett said that he thought the group shouldn't be a hand-picked committee. "Let's keep this thing on a volunteer basis," he added.

After a short discussion, the board decided to meet sometime this week to plan the proposed committees' set up.

Sault Rejects City Income Tax

Sault Ste. Marie and Cadillac voters turned down city income taxes in Tuesday's election with only 43 per cent of Sault Ste. Marie's 6,242 voters turning out.

The final vote in the Upper Peninsula city was 1,534 no votes and 1,154 yes votes for a margin of 380. Cadillac voters rejected the city tax plan by a 1,256-988 count.

City officials at Sault Ste. Marie stated they were disappointed with the outcome but felt that more voters should have come out in such an important election.

The proposed Sault Ste. Marie tax would have imposed a one per cent tax on earnings of city residents and one-half of one per cent on a person working in the city but living outside the city limits.

The measure, if passed, would have provided for a five-mill reduction in real estate property taxes.

In Cadillac, the city manager warned of service cutbacks due to shortage of funds. One official said that $75,000 in income tax revenue was needed to balance this year's budget.

Report City Fire Loss $648,036

Fires in Escanaba in 1969 did damage estimated at $648,036, more than $600,000 over 1968, according to the annual report by Fire Chief Palmer Derouin of the Escanaba Fire Dept.

Most of the loss, however, came in the fire last spring which destroyed Felton Radio & TV Supply Co., the building housing administrative offices of Goodman Division of Universal Oil Products, and Richards Print Shop in the 600 block of Ludington St.

The blaze broke out at midday on a Sunday and raged throughout the afternoon, threatening to engulf the entire block before firemen brought it under control.

Mercantile building loss, according to the report, was $303,150 and another $267,750 was lost in mercantile contents, a total of $570,900 or more than 85 per cent of the total loss in the city. There were 14 fires classified as mercantile, according to the report.

A total of 265 alarms were turned in to the fire department, the chief reported, 24 less than in 1968. Most of the alarms, 223, were reported by telephone. Alarms outside of the city accounted for 22 of the calls.

One death was recorded in the city — that of four-year-old Tommy Mayville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mayville, who died at St. Francis Hospital after being overcome by smoke in his burning home on June 12.

6 easy steps to get the most fun out of KISSIN' CANDY

1. Buy her a box of Chocolate House Candy for Valentine's Day.
2. Choose an uncrowded, relatively secluded spot for the presentation. Avoid crowds.
3. Present box to favorite female. Say clearly, "Be my Valentine . . . I've brought you a very special box of Chocolate House Kissin' Candy." Watch for tell-tale smile.
4. As she opens the box, move closer. Timing and distance are most important.
5. When she asks "What's Kissin' Candy?" you reply — It's the finest candy made, and tradition says that any man who gives a girl a Chocolate House Valentine is entitled to some kissin'.
6. If she blushes, don't waver. Gently tilt her chin up, pucker and proceed.

If you don't know what to do at this point, you shouldn't be giving such powerful candy to girls!

Why not buy a few extra boxes to practice on with your mom or the kid sister . . . and by all means don't forget grandma!

It's Official! January Was Cold

The U. S. Weather Bureau officially confirmed today what residents of Escanaba have known—that January was a cold month.

Weather Bureau officials said the month was the coldest January in the area for the past seven years with the average temperature of 12.3 degrees, 5.6 degrees below normal. There were 11 days during the month when the low reading dropped to zero or below with the coldest official temperature of 14 below zero coming Jan. 22.

"The minimum temperature on the 19th (13th below zero) was only two degrees above the record low for that date, set back in 1885," the weathermen said.

To the other extreme, "the maximum temperature on the 31st (39) was a new all-time high, exceeding by one degree the previous record for that date, set in 1939."

Total precipitation for the month also was above normal, the Weather Bureau said, with the total of 1.74 exceeding the average by .29 inches. Total snow for the month in Escanaba was 15.9 inches.

Average high temperature reading was 21.4 degrees. The average low was 4.1 degrees.

Rites Thursday For David Swift

Mass of the Angels for David Martin Swift, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swift of Bark River, will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at St. George's Church, Bark River, with Rev. Thomas Dunleavy officiating.

The boy drowned Sunday when he fell through thin ice into the icy Escanaba River.

Authorities who had worked since the accident was reported, recovered his body from the river about 3:20 p. m. Tuesday, according to Delta County Sheriff Harold O. Finnman.

Finnman said officers participating in the search found the body in about two feet of water after chopping through ice two feet thick about a quarter of a mile downstream from where the boy fell into the water. Skin divers assisted in the recovery.

Sheriff's officers, Escanaba and Gladstone police, State Police and Department of Natural Resources officers along with nearly 100 volunteers assisted in the search, Finnman said. The sheriff praised the men involved and offered thanks to the many people who donated time, effort and food.

David Martin Swift, a kindergarten student at the Bark River-Harris school, was born Dec. 27, 1963, in Escanaba. He was a member of St. George's Church.

Survivors besides his parents include a brother, Brian; one sister, Patricia; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rose of Escanaba; maternal great grandmothers, Mrs. George Rose of Gladstone and Mrs. Walter Bergeon of Escanaba, and paternal great grandmother, Mrs. Eli Bell of Kenosha, Wis.

Friends may call from 4 to 9:30 p. m. today at the Boyle Funeral Chapel in Bark River. Burial will be in Bark River Cemetery.

U.P., In Growing, Urged To Preserve Environment

BY DAVE ANDREWS

Industrial development may be essential to the economic development of the Upper Peninsula, but residents sitting in on the Upper Peninsula Town Meeting of the Air forum in Escanaba Tuesday night urged the community to "walk, not run."

About 25 persons turned out at Catherine Bonifas Civic Center for the discussion session which followed a 65-minute prepared television program on WNMN-TV, the education station of Northern Michigan University.

The program, which included remarks by Richard Whitmer, director of the State Department of Commerce; B. M. Conboy, director of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion; Frank Hoholik of Manistique, president of Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. and co-chairman of Operation Action U. P., and Jean Worth of Escanaba, former editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Other leaders of industry and economic development programs also spoke to the topic "Economic Development Is Everybody's Business."

Caution Urged

In Escanaba, the group at the Civic Center emphasized that economic development at any price is not worth the cost of a blighted countryside. "Walk, don't run," said Richard Perlick of Pine Haven.

"Be careful so we don't throw the environment out the window for the first smokestack that comes along," urged John Walbridge of Escanaba.

Perlick and Walbridge are members of the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air, an organization which is attempting to secure passage of an air pollution control ordinance by the Delta County Board of Supervisors, but their thoughts generally represented the opinion of the group.

Planning for orderly development in a community and selectivity in industrial development also were mentioned as future goals for the area.

Better Base Now

The "U. P. Town Meeting of the Air" is a series of programs sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Council of College Field Services in cooperation with economic development organizations in the area. The first "Town Meeting" last December established economic development as the top priority problem in the peninsula. Speakers Tuesday addressed themselves to what might be done about it.

Conboy said the economy of the Upper Peninsula now is in a better condition than is generally realized as the industrial base is more stable and the

State Artrain To Visit Escanaba In Summer

The Delta County Arts Council assured Gary F. Schaub of the Michigan State Council for the Arts at a meeting at the Mediscenter Monday night that Delta County would give a rousing welcome to the Artrain when it visits Escanaba.

The Artrain project sponsored by the State Council for the Arts is an effort unique in Michigan history to stimulate public interest in the arts.

Mrs. Alice Powers, an artist member of the faculty of Bay de Noc Community College, was named chairman of the Delta County Arts Council, and John Romstad, also a member of the faculty who has helped the State Arts Council with the Artrain project in the Upper Peninsula, was named co-chairman.

Art Fair, Too

They both expressed conviction that the Artrain visit and the local art fair which will be a part of the presentation will do much to show the Delta County area the dimensions of local interest in the arts and to unite the area's arts groups in the organization of the new Delta County Arts Council. These art groups include the painters, the Players de Noc, the many musical organizations, the square dancers and other dance groups, the rock hounds, the Camera Club, the craftsmen, and others.

The tour of the Artrain is not scheduled yet, Schaub said, but it will probably start its state travels in June at Traverse City and it will be in the Upper Peninsula in the summer. Cities which host it aren't being called upon to bear the expense of bringing it, but they will be expected to provide 500 feet of railroad siding for the train in an area of easy public access and with parking facilities, to provide security guards and guides to augment those traveling with the Artrain.

Local Exhibits

The most important local contribution, said Mrs. Powers, will be the exhibits of local arts to be housed in the domes which will be set up alongside the Artrain.

The Michigan Railroads Association is cooperating with the State Arts Council in the Artrain project and the train will consist of a steam locomotive and four cars.

The first car will offer visitors a vision of creativity, presenting the environmental motivation that has caused man to create art throughout all human history.

Car 2 will present a vision of man the artist, painting, sculpting, creating architectural forms, etc.

Museum Part

Car 3 will be the museum part of the Artrain, the gallery car. It is proposed to limit the works shown to those of artists who have significantly influenced the art scene and to reflect what the art world is like today—meaning that Andy Warhol with his Campbell Soup Can art may be there along with Pablo Picasso's people with three nostrils, Henry

Forest Balance

With organizations like the Upper Peninsula Game Protection Association and individuals like Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) and others clamoring for an end to the doe season to "bring back" the deer herd in the Upper Peninsula, it was interesting to note a few divergent comments on the same situation the other day.

Lloyd Palmer, executive secretary of the Timber Producers Association, takes off on remarks attributed to Dave Arnold, deer specialist for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, in an editorial in the February issue of "The Timber Producer," the association's magazine. Palmer says Arnold was quoted in the December issue of "The Northwoods Call" about the deer herd as follows:

"The job is to get the forests back to the stage where they will feed more deer. The solution for more deer is to change the forest back to what it was in the 1940's through commercial and game habitat management cuttings." Palmer also picked up a statement attributed to Arnold "that if I had my way it would be illegal to plant a pine tree in Michigan."

Refuting the comments attributed to Arnold, Palmer said the timber industry finds his thoughts on the forest "completely unacceptable."

It is true that if Michigan's forests were to be returned to brushland, they would accommodate many more deer," Palmer continued. "But we are constantly being reminded that our need for wood fiber will be twice as great in 1985 as it is today if we only take care of the normal needs of our population and its predicted expansion. . . . In our opinion, it is unreasonable to expect that we can let our forests regress back to the fire-scarred brushland that existed in the 1940s no more than if we were to throw away all of the expertise that we have obtained in the past 30 years and revert to logging methods that were in use at that time . . ."

Looking at the statements of Arnold, which for the sake of argument will be accepted as accurate although there is no assurance that they were not printed out of context, and Palmer and also at the aims of the anti-doe season element it is easy enough to see the problems facing the DNR in its resource management policy.

The forests of the state are a resource which must be protected. The deer are a resource. They must be preserved. And somewhere a balance must be struck.

History tells us that when Michigan was covered with virgin timber the deer population was negligible. The timber, however, was a bonanza for the big logging companies. (Phase 1 — Much timber, few deer.)

As the forest was decimated by the lumberjacks, the brush and slashings that remained provided ideal conditions for deer and the herd mushroomed. Forest fires continued that situation. (Phase 2 — Little timber, many deer.)

Now the timber is growing back to larger proportions and the deer herd is dwindling. It's an improvement over the brushland for timber producers, but a deterioration of conditions for deer hunters. (Phase 3 — Better timber, fewer deer.)

The illustration above may be an over simplification of what has happened in Michigan and in other midwestern states, but it does support the thought that the present forest conditions are not ideal for either timber producers (although because the allowable cut has not been met in the Upper Peninsula in recent years presumably the pendulum has swung in that direction) or the deer hunters.

It will be a difficult task in the years to come to avoid moving full circle in one way or full circle another.

Palmer speaks in favor of the multiple use concept for forest lands — a practice which has been carried out by government in recent years. He makes good sense.

The forest and its wildlife are extremely valuable resources and should be used wisely and zealously protected.

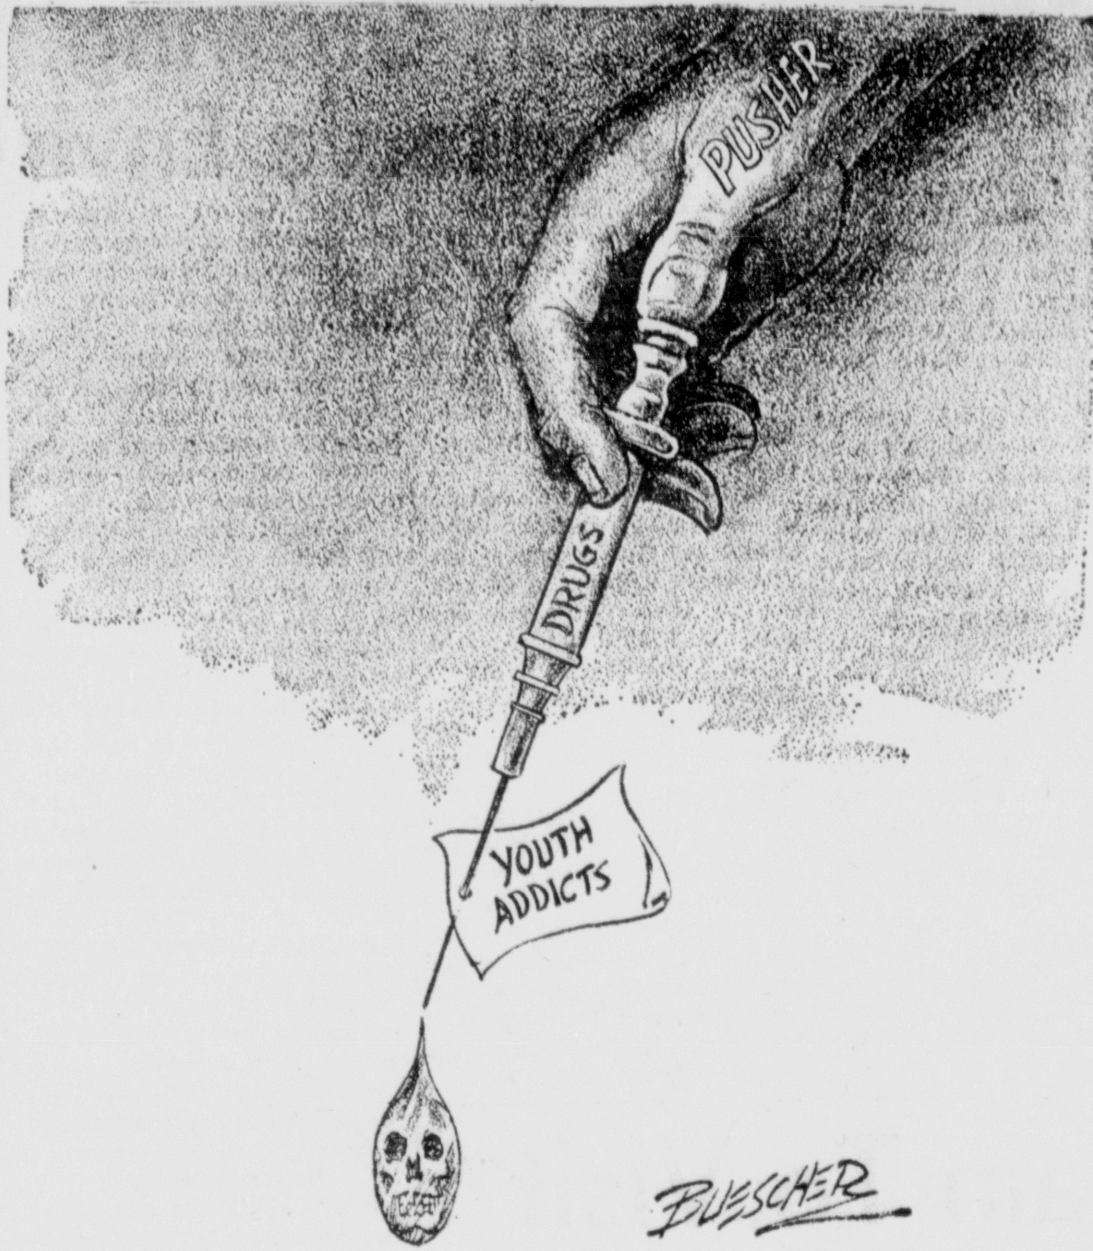

There is room for both forest industry and recreation. It's up to the owners — private or government — to provide a balance.

Peninsula Potpourri

In continuation of an experiment started last winter, seven and a half gates in the St. Mary's River compensating dam works will be opened at Sault Ste. Marie Feb. 9. C. A. Aune, area engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers said authorization for the gate opening came from the Lake Superior board of control of the International Joint Commission. Opening of the gates, most of them on the Canadian side of the dam which crosses the St. Mary's rapids, should cause about a 10-inch rise in water levels in the Sault harbor below the rapids and some rise as far as the Neebish rock cut. The gate openings will release an additional flow of about 25,000 cubic feet per second over the rapids. The gates control the level of Lake Superior and most of them had been open for more than a year until last August to relieve the lake — which was near an all-time high — of excessive water.

New learning experiences will be available to career business program students at the new Gogebic Community College on its Mt. Zion campus when second semester classes begin this week. Applied business students will enter modern business laboratories designed to simulate actual employment situations. The laboratories are equipped with modern and varied types of business machines and equipment. Students will receive learning experiences in a simulated office laboratory — a room which is set up as a regular office. This laboratory contains secretarial desks, on each of which is a typewriter and various other office machines such as dictating and transcribing equipment.

GOOD NIGHT, SWEET YOUTH

'High Square' Now Holds White House

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

In terms of their respective tastes in arts and entertainment, our last three Presidents have, as they say, run the gamut.

John F. Kennedy was avant garde—or at least he deferred to his wife Jackie, whose enthusiasms ran to anything that happened to be high fashion at the moment in the New York City intellectual world.

Lyndon Johnson might best be characterized as "low square"; he let Lady Bird decide his canons of beauty when it came to such utilitarian things as the environment, and he had no ascertainable opinions about more esoteric artistic matters such as the state of the American novel, or trends in painting and music.

Richard Nixon stands somewhere between JFK and LBJ: he is definitely a "high square."

Conceivably Lyndon Johnson as a "low square," was more representative of the majority than either avant gardist Kennedy or "high square" Nixon. But the trouble with being a low square is that, having no firm opinions about anything artistic, you can be suckered.

John Kennedy was safe in his dealings with artists because he came from the world that regards them as delightful but rather frivolous adornments to life, to be taken up or dropped at one's pleasure. But LBJ, feeling out of his element in the company of artists, deferred to critics who could impose their expertise on him.

So, when the idea of holding a White House "arts festival" was broached, Johnson let JFK holdovers decide the proper list of participants for him. The invitations went out to Pulitzer Prize winners, to members of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, to eastern Establishment intellectuals who have little use for the tastes or opinions of any Texas rancher.

It is quite conceivable that Lyndon Johnson had never heard of poet Robert Lowell until that particular scion of the Boston Brahmin Lowells proceeded to insult the President by refusing to read from his works at the White House.

And LBJ couldn't have known much about novelists John Hersey and Saul Bellow, who, although they accepted the White House invitation, took the opportunity to slam the Administration's foreign policy.

Lyndon's troubles with the art world came from his profound ignorance of the cultural folkways of Manhattan Island where, if you know something about poetry or music, you are supposed to be, ipso facto, an authority on the foreign policy of Bismarck or the state of nuclear development in Soviet Russia. In New York if your name is Susan Sontag or Mary McCarthy, you are entitled to look down on the diplomatic expertise of a mere former Secretary of State such as Dean Acheson.

Lyndon couldn't have known this because he had never had any experience with New York. So he led with his chin, and the Robert Lowells and the Norman Mailers and the Dwight MacDonalds of the avant garde world all took heavy pokes at him.

The "high square" that is Richard Nixon, who lived for a time in Manhattan yet kept his distance from Norman Mailer's circles, will never be suckered as his predecessor was. This "high square" has tastes that are definitely his own but will never get him into trouble.

The "silent majority" includes millions who are too busy making livings and raising children to pay much attention to the more esoteric

Gun Accident

ALLENDALE (AP) — A medical examiner has ruled accidental the shooting death of a man whose frozen body was found near here Jan. 30.

Dr. J.J. Post of Allendale ruled that Kenneth A. Fosburg, 30, of Wyoming, apparently shot himself accidentally while hunting.

Fosburg had been missing since Jan. 17. A brother found his frozen body near the Grand Valley State college campus after Fosburg's car was found nearby.

Tax Exempt Foundations Amass Great Wealth: Demos

LANSING (AP) — Two Democratic senators have called for a probe of "staggering amounts of wealth" amassed by some charitable, nonprofit foundations.

Sens. John McCauley of Wyandotte and John Bowman, of Roseville, the two Democrats on the five-member Senate Taxation Committee, called for the investigation in a resolution.

"There is some concern that the charitable purposes of the foundations are being subverted by their use as tax shelters," the resolution said.

"Questions arise as to whether or not profit-making ventures, owned through the control of their stock by foundations, are supporting their fair and equitable share of the tax burden," it said.

McCauley and Bowman sought $2,500, the standard amount for such a study, for the Senate Taxation Committee to study tax exempt foundations.

Meanwhile, Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe—Michigan's only woman senator—called for a study of "all aspects of employment of women."

DETERMINED TO MARRY

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP)—Herbert Schaefer and his bride arrived late at the local registry office and couldn't get a special license for their wedding. With the minister and the reception guests waiting, they persuaded a magistrate to break his dinner date and return to the registry office. The office was locked, but a policeman then climbed through a window and opened it. The special licenses were locked away in a safe, so they checked three changes of address to find the clerk who had the key and got her to unlock it.

One and a quarter hours after the wedding was to take place, the special license was signed and ready. Forty five minutes later Schaefer, recently immigrated from Bonn-Oberkassel, Germany, was then married to his fiancée—but not until they had called the minister away from a meeting to perform the ceremony.

You can't expect to do well in bridge if you adopt a defeatist attitude. It is highly essential to play each hand on the basis that there's a chance of making the contract (if you're declarer), or a chance of defeating the contract (if you're a defender).

Defenders, particularly, can stop many contracts by stoutly maintaining the belief that the contract can be defeated. This principle asserts itself in many hands, and all you have to do is look for the time and place to apply it.

West led a spade and East had no trouble diagnosing the lead as a singleton. So he won with the ace and returned a spade, which West ruffed. West now cashed the ace of diamonds—he would have lost it if he hadn't—and South made four hearts.

It is easy to see that East could have stopped the contract by leading the queen of diamonds at trick two instead of a spade. Whether or not South covered with the king, the defense would get a spade ruff and take the first four tricks.

The question is whether East should or should not have forsaken the opportunity to give West an immediate spade ruff in order to first lead a diamond.

The answer is clearly in favor of leading the queen of diamonds at trick two. East must play on the basis that the contract can be defeated, and this means West has got to have the ace of diamonds. If East is not prepared to make that assumption, he might just as well fold up his cards and concede the contract.

It is true that if South had the ace of diamonds East would cost his side a trick by failing to return a spade, but this would be a highly inconsequential loss compared to the loss that might ensue from failing to make the diamond shift.

To return a spade at trick two is equivalent to giving up. © King Features Syndicate

Ann Landers

Transplanted Yankee Has Wife Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a transplanted American who now lives in Mexico City. I used to read you in Boston, then Washington, D. C. When I saw your column in the Mexico City News, I felt as if I had found an old friend. I hope you can help me.

Back in the U. S. my wife had a cleaning woman and a laundress. The house always looked orderly. The meals were excellent. She was active in community affairs and played golf and tennis. We got along fine. Now that she has two maids and a cook and doesn't have to turn a hand, she drinks all day and has gained 20 pounds. Our marriage is falling apart. We argue constantly because she is smashed by the time I come home and I can't get any sense out of her. Our boys are in school in the States and my wife doesn't have to do one blamed thing but stay sober.

Do you think her problem stems from too much spare time? Should I fire the help and insist that she keep the house up? Please advise me. I am—Treed

Dear T: If you fire the help, you'll have a dirty house. This is no solution. The question that needs answering is why does your wife drink. What makes her life so unbearable that she must anesthetize herself daily? Urge her to get a physical checkup. She needs to see a doctor—perhaps two.

Dear Ann Landers: We girls who work in the answering service want to thank you for the kind words. We do take a lot of guff from the public, Ann, but there are many rewarding aspects of this job that most people aren't aware of. For example, we have a list of senior citizens who live alone. We call them every day to make sure they are alive. Of course we don't let on that we are calling for that reason. We make up some little excuse such as—"Just checking your line . . ." or—"The weather man says it's going to rain. Wear your rubbers." Then we put an X by the name to indicate that Mrs. Such-And-So is O. K. today.

We've had to locate doctors, call the rescue squad and contact relatives in an emergency—all within minutes. We make phone calls for sick people or those with poor eyesight. Yesterday I called the Pest Control squad for a woman who speaks only Yugoslav, which happens to be my native tongue. A person who has never worked at this job has no idea of the things we do—and some of them can be a matter of life and death.

It's nice to know we are appreciated. Thanks for giving us a pat on the back.—Atlanta Gals

Dear Gals: You deserve it. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: This might be a petty gripe but it drives me up the wall.

My mother-in-law insists on addressing cards to our daughter (age 2) as Mistress Janet Doe. We are average people and I dislike pretentiousness. Is this the proper way to address a very young girl?—Irrked In Idaho

Dear "Ida": Why be irked? Instead, you ought to shed a tear for the poor woman's ignorance. She's using the wrong word in the mistaken belief that Mistress is the female counterpart for Master. It isn't. Someone should tell her. But not you.

Ann Landers' best selling book, "Truth Is Stranger," a collection of her best columns over the past 14 years is available in paperback by Bantam for 95¢—wherever paperbacks are sold.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope. © Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Nursing Home's Carpeting Aided In Fire: Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reportedly is aware a type of carpeting blamed for helping spread flames through an Ohio nursing home where 32 died would meet proposed fire safety standards.

Malcolm W. Jensen of the National Bureau of Standards, in testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee on long-term care for the aged, said carpet from the Marietta, Ohio, nursing home struck by fire Jan. 9 would be deemed safe under the test proposed to carry out amendments to the Flammable Fabrics Act.

"We have been fully aware that certain types of carpets and rugs that would pass the proposed test could be expected to propagate flame under conditions of draft and intense heat found in building fires," said Jensen.

Jensen, deputy director of the bureau's Institute for Applied Technology, had been scheduled to testify Monday but his appearance was delayed.

SUCKLING PIG

JOUBERTINA, South Africa (AP) — Farmer's wife Louisa Potgieter couldn't fathom why her cow was giving less milk. The cow's milk supply dwindled to nothing at all until her sister paid an unexpected visit to the cowshed one morning. Standing on its hind trotters with milk foaming around its snout was a pig, lustily sucking away at the cow. Farmer Roelof Potgieter killed the thief.

Defoliation Herbicide Used Extensively By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A controversial and powerful herbicide used to defoliate the enemy's jungle hiding places in Vietnam has been used even more extensively in the United States to clear away brush from the countryside, according to the Agriculture Department.

The spray, 2,4,5-T, has been shown to cause birth defects in laboratory animals, but is officially recommended by the federal government to rid pastures of brush.

Millions Of Acres Sprayed

About three million acres of U.S. crop and range land have been sprayed in each of the last eight years with 2,4,5-T. However, most of this, more than two million acres, involves range or pastureland—areas not directly producing food crops.

Government figures cited by Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., whose foreign affairs subcommittee recently looked into chemical and biological warfare, showed more than five million acres have been sprayed with the defoliant in Vietnam since 1962.

Farmers Paid

In 1968 alone, the Agriculture Department paid farmers a total of $8.8 million for brush and weed control on more than 2.6 million acres. Most of it involved 2,4,5-T, according to officials.

Records show payments and acres sprayed have increased steadily under the program during recent years, and officials say privately that needs will continue to be great.

Under the program, farmers can get up to half their costs paid by the government for carrying out approved conservation practices. Among them are two involving brush and weed control, mainly by applying chemical herbicides.

Another Herbicide

Besides 2,4,5-T, the most frequently used herbicide is the related 2,4-D, which is suspect in the minds of many conservationists.

The Agriculture Department appears to be in a dilemma over pollution control, commitments to farmers and economy measures recommended by the Nixon budget.

Last November Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, White House science adviser, announced the Agriculture Department would outlaw 2,4,5-T on food crops beginning Jan. 1 if by then the Food and Drug Administration had not set safe tolerances for the chemical in food products. Pasture spraying would continue to be approved.

Acceptable Tolerances

The FDA has not announced acceptable tolerances for 2,4,5-T and the Agriculture Department says it will not ban the chemical until the agency acts.

Moreover, the Agriculture Department claimed that the laboratory tests that produced birth defects in rats and mice involved 2,4,5-T contaminated by a chemical byproduct and that normally the herbicide has a much lower content of the pollutant.

Program On Way Out

The Nixon budget recommended phasing out the program next fiscal year, thus eliminating future payments to farmers and ranchers for spraying chemicals on their land.

Attempts have been made before to kill the program, including one last year, but each time Congress has restored funds to keep it going.

Standard Ready To Market Gas Without Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) announced Tuesday that high performance nonpolluting unleaded gasolines will be available in its marketing areas when automakers distribute cars requiring such fuel.

John E. Swearingen, chairman of the company, said in a statement that this type of gasoline not only helps reduce air pollution but causes less wear on autos which use it.

Standard owns American Oil Co., which manufactures and markets Amoco unleaded premium gasoline in 25 Eastern and Southern states and the District of Columbia. The company said this gasoline now represents about 20 per cent of Amoco's sales.

Swearingen said: "Development work by ourselves, automobile manufacturers, and others has shown that the automobile can be made essentially pollution free by modification of the internal combustion engine and use of catalytic mufflers or other control systems."

He added: "However, extensive research on catalytic mufflers and other devices has led to the conclusion that they will not operate satisfactorily with leaded gasoline."

Volpe Sets Talk With Automakers About Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe said Tuesday he is going to Detroit to discuss pollution and safety with the nation's automakers.

Volpe said he would meet with the automakers Thursday and Friday to exchange ideas with the industry on automobile emission pollution and safety.

"My trip," Volpe said, "is being made primarily to stress my commitment and thus the Department of Transportation's to the protection of the environment and of human life."

"My visit to the auto manufacturers is to get a first hand look at what they are doing in these fields," he said, "to find out what they are proposing and to determine how the Department of Transportation can encourage them to do the job faster and better."

HE KEEPS TRYING

LONDON (AP) — Hairdresser Bob Rix, 24, is having trouble insuring his hands for 30,000 pounds ($72,000). So far 16 companies have turned him down.

Anti-Pollution Group Planned

LANSING (AP) — Legislation to create a new State Department of Planning and Environmental Control to coordinate all state efforts to stop existing pollution and provide for effective future control of our environment is proposed by Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena.

Swallow said similar desirable functions now are divided between separate state departments without adequate coordinated control. For example, he said, water pollution is under the State Department of Natural Resources while air pollution is under the Department of Public Health.

"What is needed is a common coordinator of all these efforts both in controlling the present as well as planning for the future," Swallow said.

"I envision this department submitting to the Legislature a comprehensive overall plan that would include limiting the size of existing city and urban sprawl, designating and planning model cities for new urban development, designating land exclusively for agricultural use and setting aside and preserving forest and wetlands," Swallow said.

Swallow said time is of the essence in solving these problems and that the situation demands total concentration of the state's efforts.

Need Permit

LANSING (AP) — It is not only dangerous but also illegal to store logs on highway right-of-way without a permit, says the Department of State Highways. The department said the practice is most prevalent in the Upper Peninsula.

If Beans Cost More, That's Life In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housewives shouldn't expect this year's can of beans to go back to last year's 30-cent price. In fact, they will be lucky if the price rises only to 45 cents by the end of the year.

Not very encouraging, perhaps, but that is in essence what the Nixon administration's top economic experts said, in more sophisticated terms, on Capitol Hill this week.

"It would be unrealistic to project a halt in price increases during this year," said Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy in his formal testimony to the House Appropriations Committee.

"Our estimate, therefore, assumes a further rise in prices but at a slower rate than in 1969."

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said:

"The objective of policy for the year 1970 is to find that path of moderate expansion in demand that will permit the rate of price increase to subside and at the same time will establish the basis for output to resume its growth."

At a news conference after the session, Kennedy was asked to say something for the benefit of the housewife who reads that various economic indicators show inflation slowing down, but still finds supermarket price tags going up.

There are always lags, Kennedy said, and as for supermarkets, their profit ratios are not usually considered high.

But, "this will come down as we move ahead, I am sure," he added. "I should expect a lower rate of increase."

Alfred C. Scott Dies In Miami

Alfred C. Scott, a trucking executive in Grosse Pointe Farms, and a former Gladstone resident, died Feb. 2 in Miami where he was vacationing.

Born in Gladstone May 10, 1899, Mr. Scott graduated from Gladstone High School in 1915 and served with the 23rd Army Engineers during World War I. He joined the George F. Alger Co., as a bookkeeper in 1920 and became president of the company in 1945.

During his years with Alger, the company became the largest trucking concern in the nation and his intense interest in driving safety won the company many safety awards. Scott was a past president of the Michigan Trucking Association and a member of the American Legion, Detroit Consistory, Moslem Temple, Country Club of Detroit, Detroit Club and Detroit Athletic Club.

He was also a member of the Everglades Club of Palm Beach and a past president of the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors. Collecting early American clocks was his hobby.

Surviving are his wife, Gertrude, a daughter, Mrs. George Ritchie and six grandchildren.

While residing in Gladstone, Mr. Scott made his home with the late Mr. and Mrs. Gust Ohman. The family includes Oscar Ohman and Mrs. Vera Kallerson, of Gladstone, and Alfred Ohman, of Escanaba.

Funeral service and burial were in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Valentines Feature Both Old, New Looks

WASHINGTON — Roses are red, violets are blue, hot pink is nice, but skip the goo. In other words, new colors and cooler sentiments are edging their way onto valentines. Red still is dandy, but a quicker way to a modern maid's heart may be through a starkly modern valentine colored persimmon, avocado, lemon, or hot pink. Sticky verses comparing one's love to a carnation or a nightingale are out of place on new cards. One 1970 valentine says on the outside, "Happy Valentine's Day, You Big Rat." Inside it reads "Knew you would not go for no mushy poem."

Love Sweeps Country Greeting card makers estimate that more than a half-billion valentines will be sent this year and in spite of the modern trend, old-fashioned sentiment still predominates. In fact, the sentiment is so old-fashioned that many current valentines are replicas of Victorian greetings. Also popular again are 1910-era cards with pop-up hearts and flowers. Nobody knows for certain when the custom of giving valentines began. Many historians believe that early Christians instituted the observance to replace the Roman Lupercalia, a mid-February fertility festival laced with all-out revelry.

Seven Saints Scholars can only guess at the identity of the patron saint of romance. The early Christian calendar lists seven saints named Valentine or Valentinus. Two could qualify for the honor. One was Bishop Valentine of Interamna Nahars in Central Italy. He reputedly married secretly in the third century in defiance of an imperial order that young men should remain single and available for army service. Bishop Valentine was executed — some say — on Feb. 14, 270.

A second candidate was a physician named Valentine, who preached the new religion and faced death rather than denounce it. Legend has it that before his execution he cured his jailer's daughter of blindness and sent her a farewell note signed, "from your Valentine."

Prisoner Of Love
Whatever its origins, the Valentine's Day missive may have first appeared in 1415. Charles, Duke of Orleans, penned one to his lady love from prison.

Samuel Pepys was less sentimental. On Feb. 14, 1667, he grumbled in his diary that he had paid five pounds for his wife's valentine. "I am glad of it," he added, "for it is fit the wretch should have something to content herself with."

The first valentines often were homemade, but the senders cribbed the sentiments from little guidebooks. One 1820 volume, "The New Valentine Writer," suggested this for a fishmonger's sweetheart:

"You're the girl I take delight in./More than haddock, smelts or whiting./Flat as a flounder I shall be./Unless you kindly pity me./And to my tender heart incline./Who are alone my valentine."

By 1970, occupational valentines had progressed to an astronaut standing on the moon and saying, "I thank my lucky stars, I do/For knowing someone nice as you."

Pancake Racing Title Returns To Kansas

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP) — A 19-year-old girl, who finished second in two previous contests, won in record fashion Tuesday to bring international pancake racing title back to Liberal.

Miss Kathleen West sprinted over a 415-yard course here in 59.1 seconds—fastest time ever in the annual Shrove Tuesday competition between the women of Liberal and Olney, England.

The best time for the girls in the Olney race earlier in the day was one minute 11 seconds by Sylvia Winstanley, 18-year-old shoe factory worker and 1969 international champion.

The Olney-Liberal competition which began in 1950, now stands at 11-10 in favor of Olney.

NMU Students Freed On Bond

MARQUETTE — Six Northern Michigan University black students were freed Tuesday on $100 bonds each following their arraignment in district court on charges of creating a disturbance during a sit-in in the dean of students' office last month.

The six are among 22 students who will be brought before either the district court or before the faculty student judiciary committee of the university this week.

The students were charged with taking over the office of Allan L. Niemi, vice president of students affairs, Dec. 17 for 18 hours and holding Niemi captive for 45 minutes.

Windows were broken and office equipment damaged during the protest over action taken against another black student, Charles Griffiths, of Grand Rapids, who was charged with having a girl in his dormitory room after hours.

The students, who barricaded themselves in the office, left the building only after they were informed that Griffiths' suspension was dropped after a faculty student judiciary board review.

The court charge, which is a misdemeanor, was brought against Vernon Smalls, Marquette; Patrick Williams, Saginaw; David Williams, Detroit; Christopher Poole, Clarkston; Phillip Harper, Inkster, and Loren Lobban, New Rochelle, N.Y.

Four other black students were found not guilty Tuesday by the faculty student board despite objections from Niemi who identified the four as some of the students who held him captive.

The four were Linda Martin, Chicago; Gary Bolden, Flint; and Joseph Davis and Michael Gaines, both of Detroit.

Hot Lunch, Reading Cited As Area School Needs

The public opinion survey of the Escanaba Area Public Schools was accepted by the Board of Education Tuesday night.

The 57-page report is being circulated to school offices, school and city and state libraries, the administration, the MEA and will be available at any of those places for interested citizens to read. A five-page report, covering all of the grand totals of the questions will be more widely circulated to the school staff, interested organizations and to the survey volunteer workers.

The Information Services office reported a distribution return of 41.6 per cent, with 4,775 surveys distributed and 1,982 returned completed. The return represents an unusually high percentage (normal returns bring between 10 and 20 per cent, and indicates widespread citizen interest in their schools, according to Mrs. Cynthia Winters, Information Services director.

People of the school area seemed to take a great deal of time to present their honest opinions, she said, and 20 per cent of those answering the survey added many valuable comments on the blank back side.

The board and administration expressed their thanks to the people for the cooperation in answering the survey.

Volunteer Tally
The rapid tallying of the nearly 2,000 surveys returned was made possible by the volunteer efforts of the PTA, the Education Committee of the Escanaba Women's Club, and many individuals. Fifty people contributed a total of 236½ hours. Of this time, the PTA donated 147 hours, with one individual alone contributing 25 hours.

Tally sheets were tabulated and compiled into the report with breakdown categories by school areas and job designations. All written comments were included in the full report.

The survey indicated that the people of the area schools would like to have reading help available in their schools, with 1,723 answering "yes" to the question, "Would you like to have special teaching help for the slow readers offered?", only 69 answered "no" and 65 responded, "don't know."

Lunch Program
Many people who responded were not happy with the lunch arrangements at the schools. Of those commenting on the lunch program, 451 wanted some type of hot lunch, 127 objected to the cost of the present program, and 163 expressed disapproval with the food in the present program.

More people (899) said they would rather see taxes increased than those (473) who felt that school services should be cut if those were the only alternatives. (Q-10.) The services most frequently mentioned that the 473 would be willing to have removed were music, sports, and art.

Five areas most frequently mentioned as being the biggest problems that our public schools must deal with today were:

money, 357; overcrowding, 189; discipline, 176; getting good teachers, 54; and communication, 43.

Of the 1,982 persons answering the survey, 1,587 said they are property owners and 275 indicated they are not.

Survey totals, by question:

1. Would you pick out several of these school subjects that are most important to you? Reading, 1,804; Social Studies, 711; English, 1,486; Mathematics, 1,684; Home Economics, 603; Health, 603; Art & Music, 590; Business & Trade, 1,013; Science, 1,020; Foreign Language, 359.

Big Ten Powers Display Cage Firepower Tuesday

By The Associated Press

Some of the fastest guns in the Midwest—Iowa, Ohio State and Purdue's Rick Mount—put their own particular brand of basketball firepower on display Tuesday night but the Drake Bulldogs came out second best in a Texas shootout.

Iowa's 14th-ranked Hawkeyes shot better than 50 per cent for the ninth consecutive game and made it seven straight in the Big Ten race with a school scoring record 119-100 victory over Wisconsin.

Runner-up Purdue remained 1 1/2 games back, beating Indiana 98-80 as Mount hit on 16 of 28 shots for 41 points and a school career mark of 2,093 points. Dave Schellhase, held the old record of 2,074.

Ohio State's Buckeyes hit their first 11 shots and finished with a .685 average on 37 of 54—second best in league history—in an 89-66 rout of Michigan State. The Buckeyes stayed alive in the race, 2 1/2 games out. But Drake's Missouri Valley Conference bubble finally burst.

The 11th-ranked Bulldogs went three minutes of the second overtime period without scoring and lost to North Texas State 83-71. Coupled with Louisville's 91-84 triumph over Wichita State, the setback left Drake and Louisville tied for the MVC lead.

Elsewhere, ninth-ranked Florida State, only team in The Associated Press' Top Ten to see action, crushed Florida Southern 98-74 while Austin Carr led No. 16 Notre Dame past St. John's, N.Y., 90-76.

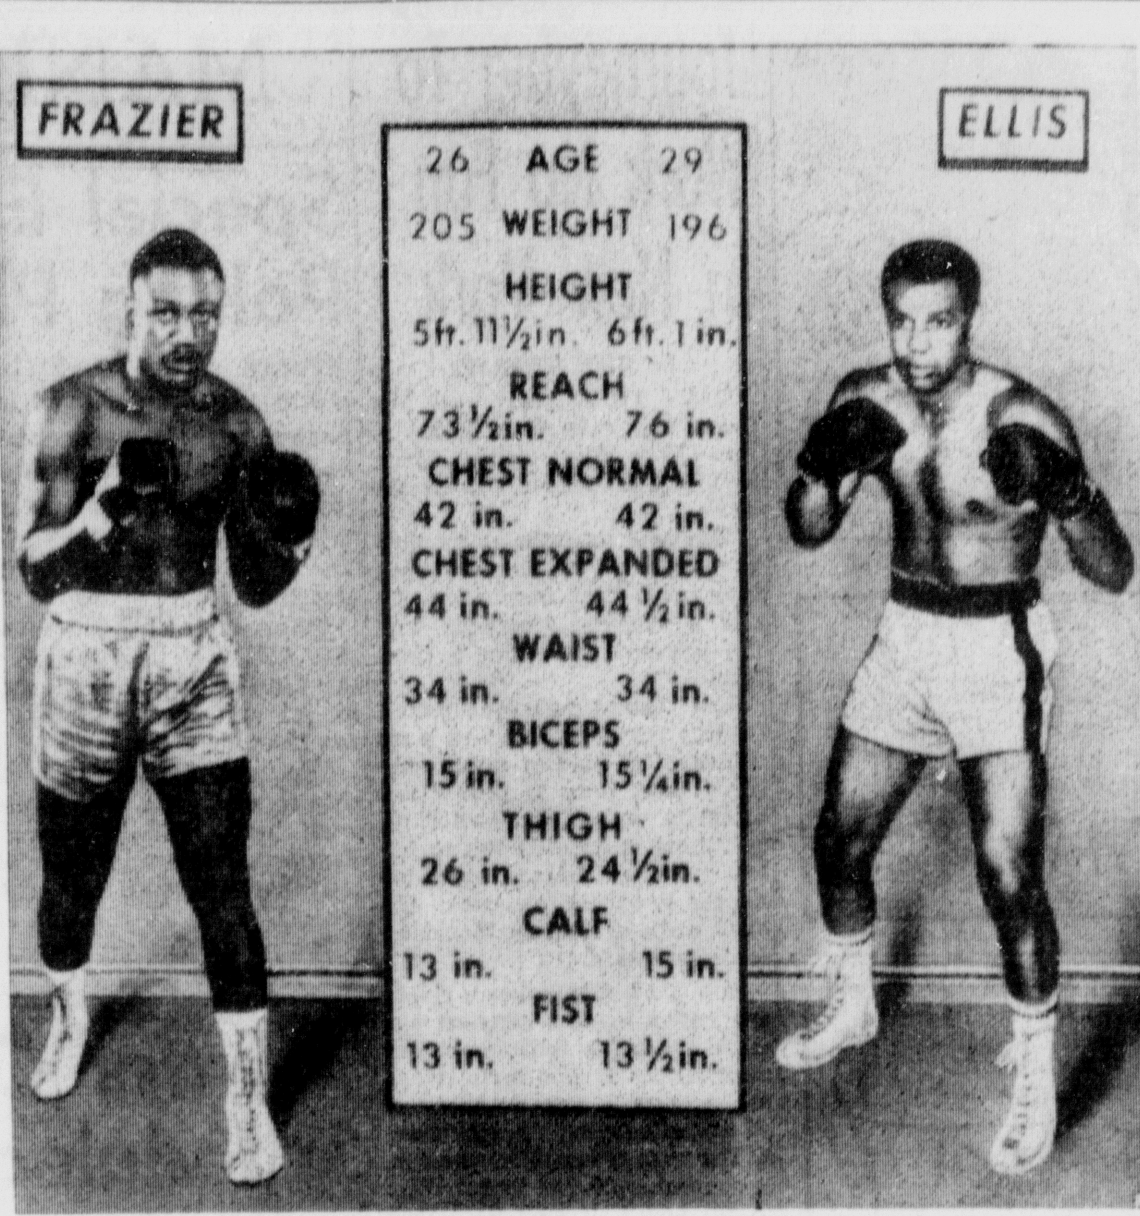

Rice fought its way into a tie for first in the Southwest Conference by edging Southern Methodist 66-63 while Texas Christian bowed to Texas Tech 75-69. Baylor blew a chance to make it a three-way tie by losing to Arkansas 76-75. The Bears and Tech are one game behind the leaders.

Iowa raced to a 39-44 halftime lead against Wisconsin and coasted home as John Johnson and Chad Calabria scored 29

Last Two Seconds Prove Costly For Piston Quint

By The Associated Press

Two little seconds meant two big points for the frustrated Detroit Pistons Tuesday night.

It only took Cincinnati the game's last two seconds to clinch a 117-115 victory from in Cobo Hall.

In other National Basketball Association play, Phoenix downed Boston 112-117. San Francisco trimmed Atlanta 113-104. Milwaukee beat Philadelphia 139-131. Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 111-106.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver bombed Miami 151-128. Washington outscored Los Angeles 137-123 and New Orleans downed Carolina 97-83.

Torrid second-half shooting by Jon McGlocklin, who finished with 30 points, and Greg Smith, who wound up with 25, complemented Alcindor's effort and carried Milwaukee past the 76ers at Philadelphia.

McGlocklin scored 24 points and Smith 22 after intermission. The Bucks built a 100-86 margin in the third quarter as McGlocklin hit on all six of his shots from the floor. Philadelphia closed the gap to 118-116 with just under five minutes to play, but the Bucks sealed the victory with a 15-5 burst.

The Celtics, who trailed by as many as nine points in the third period, closed within two late in the final session. But a string of free throws by Paul Silas and rookie Neal Walk, followed by a field goal by Hawkins with one minute to play, put the Suns beyond reach.

Hal Greer and Billy Cunningham each scored 28 Philadelphia points.

The Royals, who had lost all five of their February starts in the absence of ailing Oscar Robertson, overtook Detroit as Van Arsdale canned their last five points. He tied it at 115 with a free throw seconds before hitting the winning basket from the corner.

Joe Caldwell topped the Hawks with 21 points.

Earl Monroe bunched 19 of his 27 points in a second-half Baltimore comeback that ruined Los Angeles' chance to pick up ground on Atlanta. The second place Lakers trail the Hawks by 1 1/2 games.

Kevin Loughery and Jack Marin each put in 25 points for the Bullets, who outgunned the Lakers 64-46 after intermission to erase a 13-point deficit.

Seattle Given Chance In Battle For Pilots

CHICAGO (AP) — Seattle's franchise in the American League appears assured for at least another year on a shaky financial basis which baseball's owners still are trying to solidify.

They were to meet again today to try to iron out the details.

The owner, after a day-night session Tuesday, reached agreement that the hard-pressed Pilots should get another year of reprieve.

The decision came after efforts of a Seattle civic-minded group, headed by hotel executive Edward Carlson, pledged $6-million cash and credit goal and renegotiation of a $3.5-million loan.

Joe Cronin, American League president, said: "We are bending over backwards to keep the franchise in Seattle."

But Cronin was somewhat reluctant to say how many votes were taken Tuesday on the issue.

Meanwhile, Cronin said any potential shift of the franchise that was discussed favored Milwaukee over Dallas-Fort Worth.

"Milwaukee was discussed, Dallas-Fort Worth wasn't," he said.

"Votes were flying all over the place," Cronin continued. "I can't say anything about a definite one."

Other league owners backed up Cronin's assessment of the situation. But The Associated Press learned that despite the MARQUETTE (AP)—Dennis Kuiper flipped in a layup with 46 seconds left in the game to give Central Michigan a 74-72 basketball win over Northern Michigan Tuesday night.

Central Michigan managed to get the ball back on a turnover shortly after Kuiper's basket and stalled out the clock.

The game was tied at the half 39-39. Paul Botts had 19 points to lead Central scorers while Ted Rose had 23 for Northern Michigan.

Central Michigan is now 16-3 for the season and Northern Michigan is 9-11.

Merger Seen Near In Pro Cage World

NEW YORK (AP) — With college seniors like Pete Maravich and Bob Lanier in the background shooting for a basket full of dollars, the National and American basketball associations took another step toward the inevitable merger Tuesday.

Commissioners Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association and Jack Dolph of the American Basketball Association finally got together to plot a course that would take them away from a colossal bidding war this spring in the college draft.

They talked for two hours about a merger, undoubtedly

The United States will be represented by Greg Swor of Duluth, Minn., who set a North American jumping record of 340 feet recently at Leavenworth, Wash.; Adrian Watt and Ken Harkins, also of Duluth; Bill Bakke and Dave Norby of Madison, Wis., and Jerry Martin of Minneapolis, Minn.

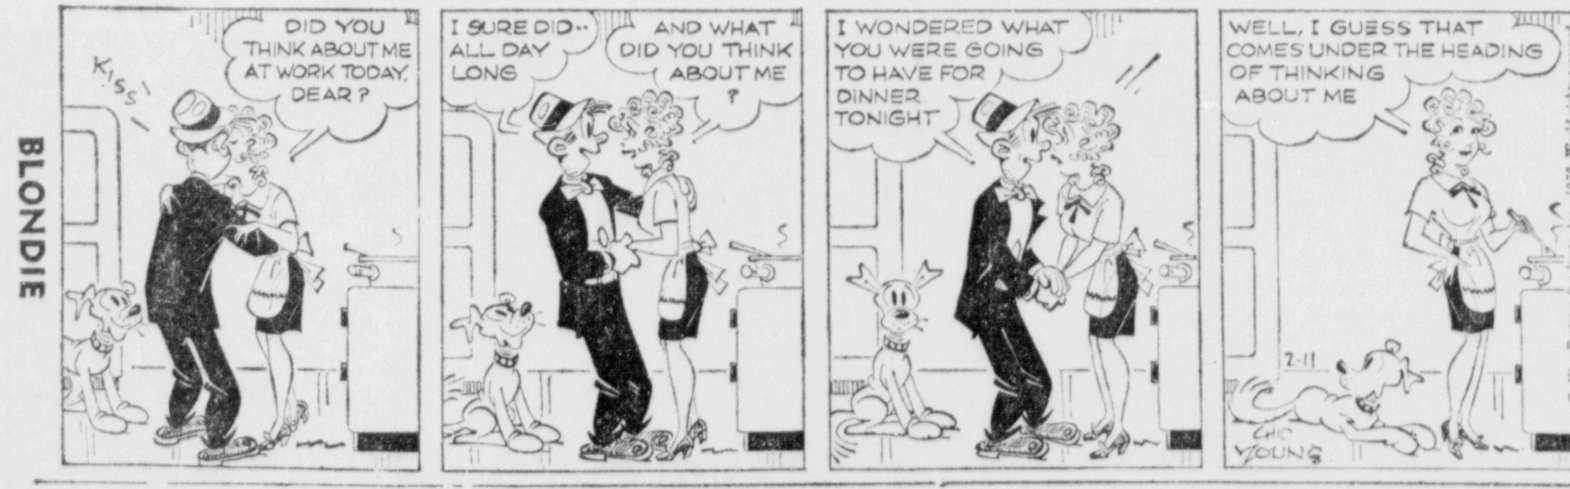

Leaps exceeding 500 feet are anticipated in the ski flying tournament which will be held on a newly constructed $1 million facility at nearby Copper Peak.

Fred Rogers of Madison, Wis., was named chief measurer, by the U.S. Ski Association, which named five judges: Walt Bielita, Iron Mountain; Gus Raam, Teton Village, Wyo.; Wash Hampton, Wanatchee, Wash.; Carl Holmstrom, Duluth, and Henry Solteit, Vancouver, B.C.

Tuesday's Norwegian and Swedish additions brings to 21 the foreign competitors named thus far. Tournament officials said six other countries which have indicated they will send teams have not yet named the individuals.

Journeying To Work No Fun In New York

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — For those who earn their living in New York City, getting there isn't half the fun—it's twice the work.

Whatever onerous tasks they are required to perform once they reach their destination, it's like a vacation compared with the ordeal of journeying to their jobs.

Just pushing your way onto a subway during rush hours is an achievement akin to eating only one peanut. Once in, your entire attention must be devoted to breathing in counterpoint to fellow travelers. Should everyone happen to exhale at once, the steel walls of the car would be forced outward.

New York City subway riders are known as straphangers, but there are a few fallacies in this designation: 1. The metal loops are accessible only to those of basketball-playing proportions; 2. The ratio of straps to standees is somewhere in the vicinity of 1 to 30; and 3. It isn't necessary to hang onto anything—there's no room to sway with the lurches of the train, let alone actually fall.

While under some circumstances staring into a man's eyes can be romantic, an orb-to-orb confrontation in a jammed subway car is only embarrassing. After 15 minutes of such intimacy I feel that when we part I should at least mutter some pleasantries like, "Nice seeing you." But it's a bit difficult to say anything, since he shoves me in the mouth in his effort to maneuver his way through the door.

What I do to pass the time is to play a little game called "guess who's getting off first." With the proper mixture of cunning, courage, clairvoyance and willingness to cause a few casualties, I can perhaps get a seat. The trouble is, I always stalk the wrong prey.

"This fellow's a stockbroker type," I reason to myself. "He will stay on until Wall Street." So I turn my back on him and concentrate on the girl who has just packed all her belongings neatly in her shopping bag, tied a scarf around her head and turned her attention to the door, apparently determining the quickest exit route.

My "stockbroker" friend gets off at the very next station, but a more gifted guesser, fleet of foot and more aggressive of nature, has grabbed his seat. My ready-for-flight candidate is still perched for a fast getaway when I reach my stop.

I used to get a great deal of sympathy from my coworkers who traveled in comparative comfort by rail. But recently trains bringing them in from Connecticut, Westchester and Long Island have been suffering too from the run-down, slow-down, break-down syndrome.

Now they've joined me as participants in the Fun City Commuter Follies.

MANISTIQUE Special Election Polling Places Set

Polling places for Friday's special school operational levy request have been announced. Voters are being asked to approve a renewal of a four mill tax levy for a five year period. The four mills expired in December.

Voters on Manistique's west side will cast their ballots at the Lincoln School, while those on the east side will vote at the Lakeside School.

Thompson and Mueller township residents will vote in their town halls, while Hiawatha, Fairview, Doyle and Germfask residents will vote at their schools.

The polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

In a statement released last week, Denton Nelson, president of the Area Board of Education, stressed that the request is for renewal of present taxes, and not an increase.

At that time Nelson said "I think it is a tribute to our staff members and to our dedicated board of education members that we can come to you at this time, point to what we have done, are doing, and hope to do, and simply ask you, the taxpayer, for the same amount of money you have paid in the past."

The millage request was endorsed by the Zion Lutheran Church congregation at their annual meeting a few weeks ago.

Business and industrial fund solicitation will begin March 1 and a Palm Sunday radiothon originating from the St. Francis Parish Center, is planned.

Mrs. Robert Broullier is secretary and Phillip Ott, treasurer, of the drive.

'Winter Olympics' Scheduled Feb. 21

A Winter Olympics for youngsters in grades four, five and six will be held Feb. 21 under sponsorship of the Community School.

John Stapleton, Area Schools athletic staff, announced at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Advisory Board that snowshoe races and relays, cross country skiing, dog sled races and skating events are being planned. Some activities will take place at the A. F. Hall Stadium and others at the City skating rink.

Bonifas also announced that a Marionette Show for elementary school youngsters is planned for Feb. 17 and the possibility of two performances is under consideration. Also being considered is bussing high school students to Marquette next month for a matinee concert by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Dorothy Makel said registrations are still being accepted for the Marriage Enrichment Course and open to junior and senior high grade students, newly-married and engaged couples. The class is being conducted by Urban Steinmetz of Family Life Bureau, Escanaba.

Anyone interested in joining the "Great Decisions" discussion group is welcome to attend the first discussion session Thursday at 7 p. m. in the library, Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur said. Thursday night's topic is the Soviet Union.

Pete Denman reported 37 youths were enrolled in an elementary ski course being conducted on Saturday mornings on the city slopes. He also said Radio Station WTIQ, in cooperation with the Highway Safety Project, would initiate a safety program on Mar. 1 featuring taped comment from local persons.

Reports were heard from John LaPointe who said a Big Brothers Steering Committee was being formed; Bonifas, Community School Birthday Party to be held on Feb. 19; Mrs. Pauline Holloway, senior citizen activities; Lois Carmody, gymnastics class; Howard Handorf, landowners course and parent-teen "Understanding"; and Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle, "Green Flag" safety program co-sponsored by the Rotary and Michigan State Police.

Wuehle also said a slide presentation, prepared by Audio-Visual Director Ron Patrick, is available to any group or organization who might be interested in learning more about the school's new audio-bus, commonly referred to as the "learning bus."

Chamber Chooses Activity Leaders

Activity chairmen were appointed at Tuesday's breakfast meeting of the Retail Division, Manistique Area Chamber of Commerce.

Appointments include Dan Barber and Bill Griffith, 1970 retail promotions including the Christmas program; Mrs. Jeanne Larson, trade show; Fred Peterson, retail activities and Snowmobile Racing Derby.

Peterson outlined plans for the March 7-8 Racing Derby, sponsored by the Manistique Snowmobile Association and sanctioned by the U.S. Snowmobile Association, and the Division promised cooperation with the sponsoring group. The possibility of holding two trade shows, one in spring and a second in the fall, was discussed as was promotion of a Snowmobile Safari next year.

The date of the next meeting will be announced by division co-chairmen Bill Putvin and John Pat Miller. Future meetings will begin at 7:30 a.m. rather than 8 a.m.

In Memoriam

St. John

In loving memory of Patrick J. St. John who passed away February 8, 1965.

Five years ago, God took home my treasure. My loss has been something one cannot measure. Entered this world near St. Patrick and St. Joseph's days. Left on St. John the Confessors after a short stay. "Carrot Top" that little boy who was born to another. Though from the beginning meant for me to mother. You were the greatest gift I have ever received. Adoption is as wonderful as birth let none be deceived. Remember when you went to play horse in the field? You were punished yet felt you should not yield. Or when you wandered away, got stuck in the snow. For a moment I tasted the future I would know. I want to thank you for the memories filled with bliss. For those times of sorrow or anger, for your baby kiss. If only once more, I could hear the words "Hi Mum". And I would be able to answer "How are you Chum". Time heals all wounds is what they say. There's an empty spot in my heart anyway. You, my gift of love lent me for a God will someday re-unite us and dry my tears.

Still Missing You Boy, Your Mother, Mrs. Agnes G. St. John
